OUR PROMISE TO YOU

We are committed to a philosophy of compassionate care during a vulnerable time in a family's life where often emotions overtake logic. Recognizing the confusion at a time when a set of complex decisions must be made, we offer guidance as we walk through options for good-value solutions.

Families need to be heard on multiple levels to be of service to them; we listen with respectful attention because we believe that our service can only have value to a family if we listen effectively. That skill makes us unique because our primary priority is to get to know them and their loved one in a way that creates a trusting relationship for the kind of farewell needed to honor their legacy.

Our Core Principles:

COMMUNICATION: Since the death of a loved one is one of life's most traumatic experiences and family members face difficult decisions, anxiety and grief; uncertainty and fear of making the wrong decision compound the felt stress. Clients need an understandable process that is both easy and painless. As experts in the field, we communicate with compassionate wisdom to offer guidance for decisions that must be made.

INTEGRITY: We believe it is time for funeral directors to be individuals of integrity that are more centered on building relationships in times of loss than to have a solid financial, uncaring transaction. Since family is the core of our own lives, we fully understand how important trust, service, and honesty are and how significant it is to deliver services to match a family's budget while always being accountable for our own actions as we guide the family through the planning process.

SERVICE: As the industry changes, we are committed to provide service that meets your needs while guiding you to review the many options available and honestly communicate with you as you make final decisions.

Chad R. Reuland

Chad is a relationship-driven professional whose skills are most evident at times of loss. With critical attention to families and the myriad emotions at these sacred moments, he recognizes the need for the bereaved to be compassionately heard to make these final decisions. His experience in the industry coupled with his heart values allow him to personally and emotionally share the realized loss with the families and move them compassionately to make final decisions that honor the deceased in a respectful farewell.

Eli J. Turnbough

Eli has an entrepreneurial spirit coupled with a deep understanding of how all people deserve final recognition along with a realization of the impact legacy they leave. Planning a funeral is a stressful event, which is designed to honor a life. Making respectful decisions about honoring the deceased may take a traditional or a unique path to celebrate that life and the impact it has had on others. Eli received a Bachelors degree in Business Administration from Dickinson State University, worked within the mortuary industry and then chose to attend Worsham College of Mortuary Science. These combined experiences caused Eli to recognize how families interact with a funeral home and a funeral director and he knew instinctively that there was another way.
